BILL PROVIDING FOR NEW COUNTY

Measure Was Introduced Yesterday.

Senator Boyden, of Rowan, Introduced It In Senate and Representative Kirkman in House—Referred to Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns—The Ewart Resolution Passed by House—Senate Passes Commission Plan Bill.

Raleigh, Jan. 11.—In the legislature today a bill creating Piedmont county was introduced in the House by Representative Dillard, of Guilford, and in the Senate by Senator Boyden, of Rowan. It was referred to the committee on counties, cities and towns.

The joint resolution by Representative Ewart, of Henderson, commanding Governor Pothier, of Rhode Island, for declining to accept for Rhode Island, the gift of North Carolina repudiated bonds from the New York bond syndicate, came up for passage in the House, and Judge Ewart, in a vigorous speech, explaining his resolution, paid highest commendation to the Rhode Island Governor and the high sense of propriety he exercised in declining to receive the bonds. He referred at length to the interesting and significant discussion of the issue as it transpired in the Rhode Island legislature, in which Senator Arnold was quoted as severely criticizing those members of the Rhode Island assembly who would advocate receiving the bonds and entering into the harrassment of a sister state.

CCompromise EFFECTED.

Noted Libel Suit Comes to Sudden Termination—Sentence Deferred in Williams-Craft Case.

In United States court yesterday morning the noted libel suit instituted to settle the controversy between the United States government and N. Glenn Williams and D. C. Foster, regarding the ownership of a quantity of whiskey, came to a sudden termination, a compromise having been effected by counsel before court convened for the day.

By the terms of the compromise the government is to have $1,000 worth of the whiskey, the remainder to revert to the counter-claimants, Williams and Foster.

Judgment in the case against Williams and Thomas Craft, who were convicted last June of conspiring to defraud the government by padding the sale of postage stamps at Williams, Wilkes county, in order to receive a larger salary for the office, in which sentence was deferred until the above case was disposed of, was continued until the June term. In continuing judgment Judge Boyd stated that Williams could dispose of the liquor involved in the libel case to better advantage than any one else so he would defer sentence in the conspiracy case in order to give him time to settle up all his affairs and get in readiness to accept such judgment as the court saw fit to impose.

The accounts of the marshal were audited and approved.

NO TRUTH IN REPORT.

Southern Railway Will Not Dispense With Ticket Collectors.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 11.—Upon being asked today as to the truth of the published reports that the Southern Railway Company has determined to dispense with ticket collectors on its passenger trains, Mr. A. H. Plant, comptroller of the company, said:

"This report is entirely without foundation. The management of the company has not even had under consideration any change of policy with regard to the employment of ticket collectors. On the other hand, the results that have been obtained are such as fully warrant the continuation of the system."

Former Resident Weds In Kansas. News has reached here of the marriage a few days ago of Mr. R. L. Curtis, of Goff, Kansas. Mr. Curtis formerly lived here as an employee of the Western Union Telegraph Company and also, for a time, of the Postal Telegraph Company and has many friends and acquaintances who will be interested in the news that he has entered into matrimonial bonds. His bride was Miss Rosselback, of Seneca, Kansas.

Stepped From Moving Train.

Passengers on No. 12 last night brought news of a horrible accident which befell an unknown man just beyond Salisbury on the Asheville division of the Southern. The porter on the train from Asheville called out Elmwood and the man immediately rushed off the train while it was going at considerable speed. A passenger saw the man fall and the train was stopped and the body brought to Salisbury. There were no papers on his person, it was stated, by which he could be identified.

Representative Doughton offered an amendment that was accepted striking out the expression in the resolution to the effect that these bonds have never had and can never have any standing in the courts of the country. Thus amended it passed its readings and was sent to the Senate.

Senate.

President Newland convened the Senate at 11 o'clock, Rev. J. M. Pittenger, D. D., of the Church of the Good Shepherd, offering the invocation.

Bills Introduced.

Carpenter of Gaston, by request of ministers of Gastonia: Abolishing the near beer traffic throughout the State. Committee on propositions and grievances.

Boyden, of Rowan: Establishing the county of Piedmont out of Guilford, Davidson and Randolph. Referred to committee on counties, cities and towns.

Ivie, of Rockingham: Regulating labor in manufacturing industries. Manufacturing committee.

Sikes, of Wake: Changing the name of the Baptist University for Women to Meredith College, Education.

The bill incorporating the City of Greensboro under a commission form of government passed third reading and was ordered engrossed and sent to the House.

House.

Speaker Dowd convened the House at 11 o'clock. Rev. J. O. Guthrie offered the prayer.

Among the bills that were favorably reported from committee was General Carr's bill to enable Trinity College to own more than two million dollars worth of property, this being needed to enable the college to rebuild administration building on the scale desired since the recent fire that burned it.

Bills and Resolutions Introduced. Kirkman, of Guilford: Create Piedmont county out of portions of Guilford, Randolph and Davidson.

Battle of Wake: Increase the salary of the state librarian to $2,000.

A bill introduced in the House by Representative Pace, of Wake, provides that in case of injuries to or received by any railroad employees on duty in this state they shall have the right and are empowered to call upon the nearest practicing physician or surgeon to care for them until a regularly employed physician ian or surgeon of the railroads is required to pay for the services of any such physician or surgeon and if any railroad corporation refuses to pay within a reasonable time it shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

A large delegation of prominent citizens of Asheville and other places in that section arrived today and held a conference with a number of representatives and senators tonight to talk over the question of asking the general assembly to make an appropriation for the establishment of a teachers' training school in Western North Carolina. The conference lasted a long time, the members of the delegation outlining their plan of action and calling for expressions from different representatives and senators. The members of the general assembly who spoke were heartily in favor of the movement and the advocates will make a strong fight for the school. The members of the delegation are enthusiastic and feel that they have just claims that will have their weight when the matter comes up for consideration before the legislature. Waynesville and Asheville are spoken of as most suitable locations for the school. The whole section is united in making the demand for the establishment of such an institution. Among those in the delegation here to pull for the enterprise are Dr. Geo. T. Winston, Locke Craig, Judge Jeter C. Pritchard, Thos. S. Rollins, Charles A. Webb, W. T. Crawford and W. C. Allen.

ANNIVERSARY OF LAYMEN'S CONVENTION

SEN. RANSOM'S BUST PRESENTED

With Appropriate Exercises Last Night.

Presentation Speech by J. Bryan Grimes and Acceptance In Behalf of State by Gov. Kitchin—Exercises In Hall of House of Representatives—Several Addresses—Several Charters Issued Yesterday.

Raleigh, Jan. 11.—Tonight in the hall of the House of Representatives the formal presentation of the bust of the late Senator Matt. W. Ransom to the state occurred, the exercises being attended by a large number of the members of the general assembly and citizens of the city.

In presenting the bust Hon. J. Bryan Grimes, chairman of the North Carolina Historical Commission, said: "This evening we lift the veil and look upon the face of him whom all Carolinians knew and loved. It is the image of the scholar, the orator, the soldier, the statesman, the patriot who loved the South as he loved his life, and loved North Carolina even more than the South—the peerless Ransom!"

The bust was presented to the State of North Carolina by the State Historical Commission, and the speech of acceptance was made by Gov. W. W. Kitchin, whose well chosen words were exceedingly appropriate and patriotic.

"The Life and Character of Matt. W. Ransom" was the subject of the principal address of the exercises, the speaker being Hon. R. W. Winston, who raised the funds necessary for the production of the bust at the request of the State Historical Commission. In the glowing tribute which Judge Winston paid to the deceased he said: "Senator Ransom was no such trained lawyer as Senator Badger. He was not a student and a scholar like Senator Graham. He had not the technical knowledge of Senator Haywood, nor was he the popular idol like Senator Vance, but in his influence with the President of the United States, with the departments, and with his colleagues in the Senate, and in the services which his peculiar talents enabled him to render to the South, he was superior to them all. In fine, Ransom was the Senator, every inch of him."

Other able and interesting addresses were made by Hon. A. H. Boyden, senator from Rowan, and Hon. B. S. Gray, representative from Northampton county. A great throng of Raleigh people and visitors to the city witnessed the unveiling and attended the ceremonies, which were deeply impressive and beautiful.

There were charters today for seven new corporations. The Goode Construction Co., Charlotte, capital $125,000, by J. A. and R. L. Goode and Jno. A. Parker.

The Curtis Creek Flume Co., Morgan, capital $50,000 by Hanly McDowell and others.

The Garrett-Glenn Co., Winston-Salem, capital $25,000 for brokerage business by J. G. Garrett and J. A. Glenn. The Lexington Chair Co., capital $150,000 by F. M. Weaver and others.

The George M. Floyd Co., Dunn, capital $10,000, by W. E. Boyd and others.

The Welfare Automobile Co., Wilson, capital $24,000, by R. C. Welfare and others.

The Corporation Commission has issued a call for reports of the condition of state, private and savings banks at the close of business January 7.

Surprise Marriage.

Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the McAdoo Hotel Mr. T. S. Straughan and Mrs. Katie James Burton, both of Mebane, were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Arnett, of the Haw River Baptist church. Mr. and Mrs. Straughan left on the afternoon train to visit relatives in Wake county before returning to their home in Mebane. They came here to get married in order to surprise their friends, no one being informed of their intentions.

A BIG HUNTING EXPEDITION.

Messrs. J. M. Hendrix, R. R. King, J. F. Jordan, J. E. McKnight and a number of other fox hunters went to Manchester yesterday to spend ten days chasing foxes. They carried a carload of horses, dogs and provisions. The dogs numbered sixty odd. It was quite an expedition.

FIRST SESSION OF CONVENTION

Will be Held This Evening at 7:30.

BEFORE CITY JUDGE

One Negro Fined For Trespass—Two Others Dismissed.

In the city court yesterday Jesse Hilton, a young negro, was arraigned for trespassing. He had been sleeping in a barn owned by Mr. Cohen, and upon being warned to find lodgings elsewhere, he returned and occupied his same bed of hay, whereupon he was arrested. Judge Ewart fined the negro $5 and costs.

Frank Boyd and Oscar Caldwell were before the Judge charged with an affray. Boyd carried a badly cut hand in a sling, and a number of witnesses were examined, but nothing could be brought out upon which to convict either of the darkies. In fact, they both appeared friendly and said they were only playing.

They were discharged upon a verdict of not guilty.

FIRE LOSSES ARE BEING ADJUSTED

Stout Bros., Printers, Compromise For $15,000—J. H. West's and I. Isaacson's Loss Not Yet Adjusted—Appraisers Figuring on the Damage Done Building Owned by R. L. Vernon.

Messrs. Stout Bros., who conducted a job printing establishment in the building that was burned on Elm street last week, have moved their plant into the Boren building, on West Washington street, near Elm, and hope to be in shape for business within the next two or three days. Their stock inventoried just previous to the fire, $3,125. They were insured in the Franklin Co., of Philadelphia, for $800, and in the Orient, of Hartford, Conn., for $850. Their loss is estimated at more than the aggregate insurance, but they agreed to compromise with the companies for $1,500. They will probably save their presses and cutters, and have ordered new material and supplies, which are beginning to come in.

J. H. West, who conducted a confectionery and ice-cream establishment on the first floor of the same building, carried insurance amounting to $2,500, but as yet has received nothing in compensation for his loss. He hopes to have an adjustment within a few days. In the meantime, he is arranging to resume business just across the street, and is occupying the space recently vacated by B. McKenzie, next to the office of the Odell Hardware Co.

I. Isaacson, the clothing merchant, who occupied a part of the building owned by R. L. Vernon, of Charlotte, carried a stock valued at something more than $30,000, which was insured for $19,000. He claims the damage to be equal to the amount of insurance carried, and asks for that amount. These admission cards will entitle the holders to reserved seats. The ladies will be invited also. It will be remembered that the convention last year was for men only.

On Friday at noon the reports will be received from the various churches, through the chairmen of the missionary committees. It is important, however, that duplicate reports be furnished Mr. Chas. A. Hines as early as possible in order that the figures may be compiled and the result spread upon a large map to be displayed at the service Friday evening.

The program for the convention follows:

Thursday Evening, 7:30 O'clock. Mr. J. Norman Wills, Presiding. Address, "A Sufficient Motive for the Task"—Dr. W. H. Smith, Richmond, Va., educational secretary of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Address, "The Relation of the Laymen's Missionary Movement to the Home Base"—Dr. C. F. Reid, secretary Laymen's Missionary Movement of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Friday Morning, 10:30 O'clock. Mr. G. H. Miles, Presiding.

Address, "Then and Now in Porto Rico"—Rev. T. E. White, returned missionary of the Southern Christian Convention to Porto Rico.

Address, "The Broadening Effect on the Individual of the Laymen's Missionary Movement"—Mr. S. R. Harris, Henderson, N. C.

12 O'clock. Reports from Churches of City, by Chairmen of Missionary Committees.

Friday Afternoon, 3 O'clock. Mr. A. Wayland Cooke, Presiding. Address, "Missions and the Individual"—Rev. J. Kenneth Pfahl, pastor Home Moravian Church, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Address, "The Relation of World Peace to Foreign Missions"—Rev. J. H. Peele, Guilford College, N. C.

4 O'clock. Denominational Rallies.

Friday Evening, 7:30 O'clock. Mr. A. M. Scales, Presiding.

Address, "Africa as I Saw It"—Dr. J. O. Reavis, Nashville, Tenn., coordinate secretary of the executive committee of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church in the United States.

Report of committee, and election of executive committee.

Adoption of policy, for coming year.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff
Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Cantharides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germs which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

SAD BOER PRISONER.

Hundreds of Them Kept in Bermuda, Still Refusing Allegiance to England. Bermuda Cable in N. Y. American.

Bermuda suffers from a plague of Boers. Though the war was over eight years ago these islands of the blest are burdened with hosts of poor prisoners of war who are still held here because they will not swear allegiance to His Gracious Majesty King George V of England.

Held by an implacable imperial government, driven here and there by angry insular authorities, the wretched and desperate men are literally without a country.

Four thousand of these unhappy men, chiefly of General Prinsloo's commando, were exiled to Bermuda, and those who do not lie in the bleak cemetery of Hawkins Island wander about the islands in a practically destitute condition.

When these prisoners arrived here they were accommodated on Hawkins Island, one of the many islands which compose the Bermuda Archipelago. Many and desperate attempts were made by the prisoners to escape the vigilance of the British regiments, which formed a cordon around the island. By night searchlights from men-of-war illuminated the island and surrounding waters, but nothing daunted by the obstacles to be overcome 11 men made bid for freedom. Nine of them succeeded in eluding the sentries, swimming across to the mainland, and making their escape, it is supposed, to America. Of the remaining two, the tenth was captured and the other, a youth 19 years of age, was shot through the back by a sentry and instantly killed as he was climbing the barbed wire inclosure.

When liberty and transportation to South Africa were offered the commando on the one condition that the men swear true allegiance to the British Crown, over 200 refused to accept. Then the prison at Hawkins Island was dismantled and the "Irreconcilables" wandered through the streets of Hamilton by day and found shelter under the steamer sheds at the wharves by night.

Abandoned by the Imperial Government, the Colonial authorities then deserted themselves and gave the Boers 12 hours in which to leave their quarters under the sheds. The men stuck to their "laager." The police were ordered out, and troops with ball cartridges were held in readiness to support the operations of the civil power. No resistance, however, was encountered; the "laager" was broken up. The Boers were dislodged and, with their few effects, were turned into Front street, the main thoroughfare of the city of Hamilton.

It was impossible to allow them to remain there, and as the harassed Boers refused to "move on," they were all locked up in the city prison, and subsequently charged with obstruction.

Every application made by the Boers for assistance to return to the Transvaal or the Orange River Colony has been refused until the necessary formality of taking the oath of allegiance has been complied with. The latest development is a proposal to make a claim on the British Government for $35,000 for unlawful detention.

We raised our voices in contemptuous protest against the first projected railways. Had the locomotive waited its signal from the people it would not yet have started.

When the electric telegraph was shown to us we brushed it aside as a toy and laughed its inventor to scorn when he offered to sell us his rights for a few thousand dollars.

We put into jail as an impostor the first man who brought anthracite coal to market. We broke to pieces Howe's sewing machine as an invention calculated to ruin the working classes, and we did the same thing to the harvester and the binder. We scorned the typewriter as a plaything.

We gathered together in mass meetings of indignation at the first proposal to install electric trolley lines, and when Dr. Bell told us he had invented an instrument by means of which we might talk to one another across the town we responded with accustomed ridicule, and only the reckless among us contributed it its being.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS

Are tonic in action, quick in results. A special medicine for all kidney and bladder disorders.

Mary C. Abbott, Wolfboro, N. H., says: "I was afflicted with a bad case of rheumatism, due to urine acid that my kidneys failed to clear out of my blood. I was so lame in my feet, joints, and back that it was agony for me to step. I used Foley's Kidney Pills for three days when I was able to get up and move about and the pains were all gone. This great change in condition I owe to Foley's Kidney Pills and recommend them to anyone suffering as I have."

Foley's Kidney Remedy—An Appreciation

L. McConnell, Catherine St., Elmira, N. Y., writes: "I wish to express my appreciation of the great good I derived from Foley's Kidney Remedy, which I used for a bad case of kidney trouble.

Five bottles did the work most effectively and proved to me beyond doubt it is the most reliable kidney medicine I have ever taken." Howard Gardner.

NIGHT 1442

A Matrimonial Escape
By ARTHUR W. BREWSTER
Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

I lived in a gold mining region where a great deal of assaying needed to be done and, being a chemist, set up an establishment where I could do this and other work pertaining to mines. My place was a receptacle for gold dust, large quantities of which were left with me continually.

Miss Rebecca Wright, my typewriter, was a very circumspect young lady. I attempted occasionally to joke with her, but met with no response. On one or two occasions I ventured to say something a bit tender to her, but met with no encouragement. But when a man's mind is set on producing results, especially with a woman, he will not let up until he has accomplished them or is obliged to give it up. What I wished, all I wished at least, at first was to see Miss Wright show a consciousness of my admiration and some appreciation of the fact.

But something happened which led me to forget Miss Wright and any one else except one unknown person. That person was getting away with gold dust in sufficient quantities to ruin me if the leakage continued.

No great quantity was taken at one time. Indeed, what I missed at a weighing had but the value of a few dollars. But I missed these small amounts continually. I had nothing laid up, and the amounts I was losing made up an accumulating debt. I set a watch on every one connected with the establishment except Miss Wright. I did not propose to have any one spy upon a girl who had every evidence of rectitude.

Then the stealing ceased for awhile. I began again to think of my stenographer and, yielding to pique, recommenced my efforts to break through that iciness which characterized all her actions toward me. She accepted my attentions, but passively. She even permitted me to retain her hand when I took it in mine on meeting her after a brief absence. Matters progressed between us until I came to driving her out occasionally. I was not especially in love with her, though I might have been had she received my attentions more warmly. It was with me rather a matter of curiosity, though since I lived a lonely life in a country where there was little of woman's society I often thought of marrying Miss Wright, if I could gain her consent, for the sake of a home.

Then suddenly the leakages in gold dust recommenced. I charged several persons in my employ with being the thief, hoping that some one of them would break down under the accusation and confess. Among others I accused the woman who kept my premises in order. She turned on me like a fury:

"If ye want to know where yer gold dust is goin' I'll tell ye. The young leddy you're drivin' out and sayin' sweet things to is a relievin' ye of it."

I was too indignant to ask her a single question as to what ground she based her charges upon. Indeed, I feared Miss Wright might hear her, and to be charged with such a crime would break her heart. I therefore dismissed the allegation with contempt and from that time felt more tender than ever toward the injured girl.

Indeed, I was daily becoming more and more inclined to enter into a matrimonial partnership with Miss Wright. I grew more and more demonstrative, in many ways indicating my intention. Miss Wright's demeanor underwent no change. She would permit me to encircle her waist, to kiss her; but, as for responding, she made no response whatever. I confess that this excited my amour propre, though at times I felt inclined to cease my demonstrations, feeling that I might as well caress a stone.

One evening I was sitting on a sofa beside Miss Wright, our heads very near together. I asked her why she was so unresponsive. She said she didn't know; she had always been called undemonstrative. I wished to propose to her, but she was so cold that I couldn't bring myself to do so. Though my arm was about her waist and her head rested on my shoulder, still there was no love current running between us.

That night on taking off my coat I saw something glitter on its shoulder. I recognized particles of gold dust. It struck me at once that the particles were where Miss Wright's head had been. Then a terrible thought came to me. Was the woman I was thinking of making my wife a thief? Was she carrying away the dust in her hair?

I did not sleep much that night and the next day went away for a brief season, employing a woman to spy on Miss Wright. When I returned my detective reported that every night the girl washed her hair and poured off the water in the bowl, leaving a sediment, which she scraped together and put in a little box.

Not for worlds would I expose one whom I had so nearly asked to be my wife. I went away again, leaving a note for her informing her of my discovery and telling her not to let me find her when I returned.

I have tried in vain to make up my mind to propose to some other woman. My mind has been so warped with this one experience—the narrowness of my escape from marrying a thief—that I am forced to be unjust to the rest. Perhaps some day I shall really fall in love, and that will end my suspicions.

Bargain Basement opens Friday

With a Great Many Improvements.

Watch the Papers for Friday's Bargains. The many improvements will make shopping in the Basement a Pleasure.

MILL ENDS:

Large Mills that make Cotton Fabrics for the wear of ladies and children, contract far ahead for the sale of what they know well they will have, but try hard to prevent fabrics commonly known as seconds. When the weaver makes a mistake his machine is stopped and the fabric is taken out, it may be 1 yard or it may be 20. These are accumulated and sold in bulk at much less than regular price. We contracted a year ago for them, and commencing Monday will offer them from one-fourth to one-half less than the same goods can be sold from whole piece. The collection this year is many times larger, and more space devoted to the sale of them. We will cut any piece that will leave as much as three yards.

A West Virginia Greek amassed a fortune of fifteen thousand dollars while allowing himself such scanty food that he became insane as a result of insufficient nourishment. If he had been well fed, this Greek would probably have developed into a millionaire.

The cross-examination of Capt. Peary by members of the House of Representatives tends to lessen in the popular mind the value of the North pole discovery. Results from that discovery, barring the glory that Peary got out of it and the advertisement reaped by Dr. Cook, have been nil. And, as a matter of fact, it is not impossible that it will be proved that not even Peary himself reached the pole.

The News and Observer says that the fact that the legal rate of interest in this State is only six per cent. has operated to cause progressive men to invest in factories and farms as a preferable alternative to putting out money at such a low rate of interest. The cities need more factories and if factories increase in inverse ratio to the legal interest rate, a decrease of the legal rate of interest is "indicated," as the doctors would say, rather than an increase as has been proposed. That is, if the News and Observer's theory is the correct one.

In Illinois there is a statute whereby any person having knowledge of a gambling transaction may sue and recover to the amount of three times the total lost by the victims of the gamblers. Under this statute Dr. Paul Burmaster, president of the Chicago Anti-Gambling League, has sued James A. Patten, the retired millionaire grain broker for six million dollars. It was common knowledge with the millions who read the papers that Patten gambled on a big scale. It is to be hoped that the Illinois statute will hold water and that the Anti-Gambling League will win its case.

When the state pays out to a county more than it receives from it it would seem that it should have the right to have a say in the manner of assessing its taxes.—Durham Herald.

It certainly should. But the fact seems to be that the State doesn't nurse its resources, in the way of taxes, in a very patient, painstaking manner. In a few of the progressive counties the State's tax resources are pretty well utilized but this is not the case generally speaking. The State could not make a better investment than to employ experts to map out a thoroughgoing system of taxation.

In both the Senate and the House yesterday the bill providing for the new county of Piedmont was introduced. Representative Kirkman, of High Point, introducing it in the House and Senator Boyden of Rowan, introducing it in the Senate. There seems to be developing a strong public sentiment against the new county. At first practically every one was disposed to give the matter little thought and not to care particularly whether High Point got its county or not. But when it was seen that there had to be a show-down and that the matter had to be decided on its merits rather than allowed to go by default, the issue became a live one, so that it is now one of the uppermost topics of conversation among men interested in public affairs. It must be confessed, we will add, that inquiry into the attitude of other progressive states toward new counties was not favorable to High Point's contentions as plausible as those contentions seemed at first. Improved dirt roads, more frequent trains on steam roads and interurban lines have all combined to bring the court house closer to all parts of the county; and numerous courthouses are therefore not necessary for the convenience of the people now as they used to be when transportation facilities were poorer. Again, looking at county affairs as a business proposition, and certainly they should be so viewed, the tendency is against new counties seeing that consolidation, rather than dismemberment, is the order of the day in business to the end that greater economies may be effected and more modern and progressive methods in general can be adopted. The Legislature will very probably conclude, we believe, that there should be no new county simply for the reason that it is not needed, experience in other states having shown that new counties are not formed except when there is very grave need for them.

"FATHER."

One day when all seemed dark and drear, And life was full of gloom, I groped my way alone.

My heart was sad, I knew not what to do,

And then I tried to pray. My heart was full, My voice was weak and faint, I said just one word "Father."

And then I saw the light.

I thought He is my Father, He will keep His child. I thought of days gone by, Of other years when He had helped me on the way; Of tears He'd dried, Of rough paths He'd made smooth, Of wants provided, Wishes He'd fulfilled, And so I comfort took And said again, just "Father."

Still I was weak, but then the promise came, "As thy days, thy strength shall be." "Take that is given today, And forward press upon thy way," I said unto my heart; then I called again, "My Father."

And yet I could not pierce the veil That hid the future from my view, It was so thick and dark, Beyond I could not see, So called again in trembling accents "Father!"

And to my heart there came a peace I had not felt before.

If He had kept my past, Was with me now, today, And would the future hold Why need I fear? For "Lo, I'm with you always!" It was His voice, and then I rested, and once more Became a trusting child And just said, "Father!"

Progress of Commission Government. Philadelphia Record.

What is called municipal government by commission is making considerable progress in spite of the name, which is misleading and which creates opposition by giving the impressions that it is a denial of popular government. The city of Washington is really governed by a commission, a board of men appointed by the President. But city government by commission is just as much the creation of the people as city government by councils of two chambers, with anywhere from fifty to hundred and fifty members. The commissioners are elected just as the councilmen or the aldermen are. Popular government is in no wise impaired by the adoption of what is called the commission form.

Since a list of eighty-six cities that had adopted the commission form was compiled, Springfield, Ill., has voted for it, and a committee has recommended it to Saratoga Springs, N. Y. The cities that have adopted the new plan are almost entirely in the West and South, but Massachusetts has five cities under that form, besides Boston, which has adopted the more important features of it. Boston has a larger councilor commission than other cities have, and has adopted a number of features not in other commission plans. But the essential features of government in Boston are those of a commission system.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all the other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

The two vital features of the commission form are the small governing body (usually five or seven, including the mayor, and in Boston nine besides the mayor,) and the election of all of them by a general ticket. It is easier to hold men to a sense of their responsibility in a small than in a large body. Where each member must be elected by the whole city the small men, the tricksters and the crooks, have much less chance of being nominated and elected than under a system of wards. A man mentally or morally deficient may be able to keep himself strong in a very small district by distributing shoes and coal and getting his constituents out of the lock-up and furnishing bail for them when convicted; but he could not long keep himself in power—even if he should get it once—if he had the whole city to deal with.

Old Postal Rates.
The high postal rates that prevailed in the earlier years of the last century made the transmission of a letter or parcel a matter of serious moment.

"A packet weighing thirty-two ounces was once sent from Ireland to London," writes Mrs. Eleanor Smyth in her life of Sir Rowland Hill. "The postage was over £6, being four times as much as the charge for an inside-place by the coach. Again, a parcel of official papers small enough to slip inside an ordinary pocket was sent from Dublin to another Irish town addressed to Sir John Burgoyne. By mistake it was charged as a letter instead of as a parcel and cost £11. For that amount the whole mail coach plied between the two towns with places for seven passengers and their luggage might have been hired."—London Chronicle.

To Identify a Child.
My small son did not return at the regular time one day while out with me. The thought terrified me that in case of an accident there would be no way of identifying him should he be lost. The next morning I cut pieces of wide tape, on which I wrote very clearly his name, address and our telephone number in indelible ink. I sewed one of these pieces to each of his underwaists, in front where it could be plainly seen.—K. E. A. in Harper's Bazaar.

Taking No Chances.
The big steamer had left the pier. The young man on the far barrel still waved his handkerchief desperately. "Oh, what're you waiting for? Come on," said his companions disgustedly. "I daren't," with one fearful glance backward.

"What's the matter?"

"She has a fieldglass," said the young man.—Everybody's.

In the Barber Shop.

Customer.—What do you mean by that sign? "Shaving Pessimists, 25 cents?" Barber.—That's because it takes more time to shave a man with a long face.—Judge.

Distance.

"Father, is it very far across the ocean?"

"Yes; it's a long way."

"About how many blocks?"—Brownings Magazine.

"He that lives upon hopes will die fasting."—Franklin.

A Dangerous Prank.

Tuesday night someone entered the boiler room of Shaw Bros. Lumber Company, Guilford avenue, and drew all the water out of the boiler. They first turned off the gauge and when the fireman arrived yesterday morning the gauge showed the required amount of water so he fired up. Happily he chanced to go around the boiler before the machinery was started and discovered that the water was out of the boiler. Had the heat become more intense there would have no doubt been an explosion badly injuring if not killing the employees of the plant.

Stockholders Meet.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Southern Real Estate Co. was held Monday. All former officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: David White, president; A. W. McAlister, vice president; W. E. Blair, treasurer; and in the board of directors no change was made. A dividend of 6 per cent was declared for the six months past, making a total of 10 per cent. for the year.

MR. BELL AND MISS CALLUM WED

Beautiful Ceremony At Holy Trinity Church Last Evening—Ceremony Performed by Rev. T. G. Faulkner—Off on Bridal Trip—Will Live In Petersburg, Va.

Last evening at 8:30 o'clock Holy Trinity church was the scene of a beautiful wedding when Miss Alice Callum and Mr. Abram Bell plighted their troth, the vows being spoken by Rev. Thos. G. Faulkner, rector of the parish. The church was filled to overflowing with relatives and friends of this popular young couple.

The church had been artistically decorated for the occasion, the chancel, in front of which the vows were assumed, being banked with silk. The church was lighted with numerous candles, while beautifully arranged about the chancel were vases of white carnations.

The music was in charge of Miss Alma Ashley and while the guests were assembling the sweet strains of "The Swedish Wedding March," by Soderman, "Angel's Serenade," and "The Venetian Love Song," by Ethelbert Nevin, floated from the organ. Miss Phyllis Woodall playing the accompaniment on the violin.

Promptly at 8:30 o'clock the full vested choir came down the aisle singing the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, with organ and violin accompaniment, heralding the entrance of the bridal party. First came the chief usher, Mr. James Callum, the other ushers, Messrs. Harry Vaughn, Lloyd Klingman, George Foushee and Peter Covington, of Petersburg, Va., following in pairs. Next came the maids of honor, Miss Marie Reynolds, wearing white lace over white satin and carrying Bride roses, and Miss Nell Durham, of Wilmington, wearing Spanish lace over yellow satin and carrying Bride roses. They crossed and stood on either side of the aisle.

Then came the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She was charming in her wedding gown of white Duchess satin, en traine, with princess lace. Her tulle veil covered her face, being thrown back as the bridal party left the altar. Across her brow was a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of Bride roses and lilies of the valley. She was met in front of the altar by the groom, who, accompanied by his best man, Mr. P. D. DeOrr, of Atlanta, entered from the vestry, and the beautiful ceremony of the Episcopal church was used. As the bridal party left the altar the strains of the recessional from Mendelssohn's wedding march floated from the organ, with violin accompaniment.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was tendered the members of the bridal party at the residence of the bride's parents, 601 Summit avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell left on No. 38 for a trip to New York and other northern cities. After two weeks they will be at home in Petersburg, Va.

Mrs. Bell is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Callum and is a charming young lady, who by her gentle and sweet disposition has won the love of her many friends and acquaintances in the city. The groom is a promising young business man of Petersburg, where he holds a responsible position. The large number of useful gifts attest to the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Bell are held in Greensboro.

NEW YORK ROTTENEST CITY CRIES SUFFRAGIST.

More, Vice, Wrecks, Suicides and Murders, Says Mrs. Gabrielle S. Mulliner.

New York World.

The last public appearance of Mrs. Gabrielle Stewart Mulliner, made yesterday afternoon at a luncheon of the women of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, was surrounded by fire. Last week, when it was announced that Mrs. Mulliner had retired from active law practice, she said she would isolate herself on subjects that were close to her heart and then vanish into her home. Yesterday she carried out that promise—or threat.

Before seventy-five women Mrs. Mulliner read a long paper in which she discussed the menace to society of women of the half world, unfaithful husbands and divorcees. She classed the city of New York as one huge receptacle of everything foul under the sun.

"There is more vice per capita in New York," said Mrs. Mulliner, "than in any other city of the world. There are more wrecks, more suicides, more illiteracy, more accidents upon the public highways, more thefts, more murders, more depravity, more misery and distress. And the woman who surveys it all and understands it all and wants to better it all is beginning to make of herself a true suffragist."

Mrs. Mulliner said the old Puritan standards had inspired the writing of "The Scarlet Letter" had been mashed flat. Women, she said, were looking upon the breeders of evil, feminine home wreckers and the like with pity and patience instead of working for legislation that should punish the woman who enters a home and steals a husband as it punishes the thief who breaks in and carries off the silver.

"There is such a thing as the unwritten law," went on the woman lawyer, "and the written law often countenances it if, upon the spur of the occasion, a husband kills the man he finds with his wife. Why should it not be just as much the recognized right of the wife to kill the woman who steals her husband? That thief is not stealing alone from the family; she is stealing from the special welfare and that of the soul in futurity. Hers is a marvellously wicked crime."

"It is the woman whom the law allows to walk the streets and openly attract men by her belzenment that is the criminal at the base of New York's degeneracy, and at the base of the evil in all cities. She is the community wife. And the decent women are not helping conditions by aping her—in the matter of the hobble skirt, the mob hat and the paint and cosmetic. But even the demi-mondaine and the woman who tolerates her existence are not the ones to blame. It is the law itself and the rotteness in politics that sees the thing calmly through that is to blame. Good women should work to become elective constituents of right-minded men upon the Board of Aldermen and in other positions significant to the public good.

"Raise the standard by setting a value on chastity! Make an infringement of that standard punishable by law!"

Mrs. Mulliner next presented her pet topic, divorce.

"Every co-respondent ought to be impounded in the penitentiary for a certain term," she asserted. "Such an offender against the public good is a criminal of the worst type."

Every woman at the meeting pledged herself to keep a close watch on her own drawing room and to do her part in the proposed purging of society.

Mr. A. G. Coffin says that when he went home Saturday night that he thought, and all his people thought, that he had pneumonia. He rubbed a box of Mother's Joy on his chest, as directed, and went to sleep, and he says the next morning he was entirely well. And he fully believes it broke up a case of pneumonia. All who doubt this will ask Mr. Coffin. For sale by Conyers & Sykes.

Napoleon's First Love.

The little French town of Auxonne is not associated in the popular mind with Napoleon; but, as Miss Betham-Edwards reminds us in "Unfriendly France," he spent some years of his childhood there. "In the Saone he twice narrowly escaped drowning, and here, too, as narrowly, so the story runs, marriage with a bourgeoisie maiden called Manesca. Two ivory counters bearing this romantic name in Napoleon's handwriting enrich the little museum."

Do You Help Others?

It has been truly said that for every one who stands alone there are twelve to lean against him. How is it with you? Are you one of those against whom others lean for help and encouragement, or are you leaning against some one and drawing your inspiration and courage from him? It depends entirely on yourself whether you take a positive attitude in your work or whether your negative characteristic shall dominate. It is much easier to go through life making as little effort as possible, but it is a poor way if we are going to make life yield even a small modicum of what it holds for us. If you are working earnestly and hoping for success there is only one way to attain it, and that is through your positive characteristics.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Julius Caesar.

Caesar was assassinated March 15,

44 B. C., and was at the time of his death fifty-six years old. It is not alone as a military genius that his fame endures. By almost common consent he was the most remarkable all round man of antiquity—masterfully great not only as general, but as writer, statesman and administrator.

In addition to these high accomplishments he was a great mathematician, philologist, architect and jurist. His conversational powers were extraordinary, and from all accounts he was in his manner one of the most attractive of men.

Some Consolation.

He was a frugal Scot and when the collection plate came round dropped in a florin in mistake for the humble copper. Speedily discovering his mistake, however, he stepped softly down the aisle and requested the oof gatherer to give him back the coin, which request was politely but firmly refused. A shade of disappointment flitted over the northerner's face as he walked slowly back to his pew.

"Aweel," he said, "it's a loss, but there's some sma' consolation in reflectin' it's a bad one. It might have got me into trouble anywhere else."—London Telegraph.

Dickens and His Wife.

Commenting on the unhappy relations between Dickens and his wife, Goldwin Smith wrote in one of his last papers: "Madame—I have to complain that you have not informed me of having divorced my son. I desire and request that you will fog him whenever he is disobedient or otherwise troublesome, knowing as I do that nothing will do him more good. I speak from experience, as at his age I was frequently birched."—Paris Gau-

Feet So Sore

Couldn't Walk
Down Stairs.

TIZ Cured Her Quick.

If you have sore feet, tired feet, sweaty feet, lame feet, tender feet, smelly feet, corns, calluses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville. TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked down stairs one foot at a time. She had not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes.

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used.

Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Illinois.

MR. J. WALTER VANSTORY DEAD.

Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon At His Home Near Waterworks.

Mr. J. Walter Vanstory died yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of his mother, on Park avenue, near the waterworks plant, following an illness of several months. He suffered an attack of typhoid fever last May, tuberculosis developing, and had been in declining health since that time. He was confined to his bed for about three weeks.

The deceased was 26 years of age and is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Vanstory, two brothers, C. R. and Will, and one sister, Mrs. Lue Dodson.

The arrangements for the funeral had not been completed last night, but the funeral will take place some time Friday.

Mr. Vanstory was well known throughout the city and was deservedly popular and his friends will learn with regret of his death. For some time he was owner of the Benbow Barber Shop and later, when he disposed of the property, became manager of the Guilford Barber Shop, holding this position when taken ill last May. He was a member of Greensboro Council, No. 13, Jr. O. U. A. M., and the members of the order will probably have charge of the funeral.

FOR THE MUZZLED HATPIN Over Mayor's Veto.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 11.—The lower House of the Council passed last night the Protected Hatpin ordinance over the veto of Mayor Brown by a vote of 13 to 2.

This ordinance provided any person wearing a hatpin with an unprotected point would be liable to a fine of $1 to $100. The mayor vetoed the ordinance on the ground that it was trivial.

New York, Jan. 11.—Alderman A. S. Drescher, of Brooklyn, proposed the following ordinances at this afternoon's meeting of the city fathers:

"No person shall, while upon any public street or thoroughfare, or in any public conveyance, street car, elevated train, subway train or elevator, or any other public place, wear a hatpin or similar device, the exposed point thereof shall protrude more than one-half inch beyond the crown or other portions of the hat upon or through which such pin is worn, unless said exposed point of the hatpin shall be so guarded, by device or otherwise, as to render contact with it entirely free from danger."

"Any person offending against the provision of this ordinance shall be subject to a fine of not more than $50."

The ordinance was referred to the committee on laws and legislation.

Funeral Yesterday.

The funeral of Miss Othelia Wagstaff was held from the residence of her brother, Mr. S. M. Wagstaff, 1301 North Elm street, yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, the services being conducted by Revs. Morton and Horner. The interment was in Green Hill.

Married Last Night.

Last night at the residence of Mr. L. M. Clymer Mr. Robert R. Waynick and Miss Birdie Donnell, both of Reidsville, were united in marriage by Rev. L. F. Smith, pastor of the Christian church. Mr. and Mrs. Waynick will return to Reidsville today, where they will be at home.

TAXES, TAXES.

This is to notify all persons that the 1910 taxes have been due since first Monday in September, 1910, and you are requested to come forward at once and pay up, as the time to pay without levy is short. The county and schools need the money.

All parties who contemplate doing a business on which there is a special license, are hereby notified that they must secure a license first, and all who owe such special tax must pay at once or I will have to present their names to the judge of our Superior Court as the law directs. See Sec. No. 89 (last clause) Revenue Act, 1909.

B. E. Jones, Sheriff.
